About the Intel ISEF
The Intel International Science and Engineering Fair (Intel ISEF), a program of Society for Science & the Public, is the world's largest international pre-college science competition. The Intel ISEF is the premier high school science competition in the world and provides a forum for more than 1,750 students from more than 75 countries, regions and territories to showcase their independent research annually. Each year, millions of students worldwide compete in local science fairs; winners go on to participate in Intel ISEF-affiliated regional, state and national fairs to earn the opportunity to attend the Intel ISEF. Uniting these top young scientific minds, the Intel ISEF provides the opportunity to finalists to display their talent on an international stage and submit their work for judging by doctoral-level scientists. The Intel ISEF provides awards of nearly $4 million in prizes and scholarships annually.

Section 1 — Fair Information

1. What is Intel ISEF?
The Intel International Science and Engineering Fair (Intel ISEF), a program of Society for Science & the Public (the Society), is the world's largest international pre-college science competition.

Intel ISEF is the premier high school science competition in the world and provides a forum for more than 1,750 students from more than 75 countries, regions, and territories to showcase their independent research annually. Each year, millions of students worldwide compete in local science fairs; winners go on to participate in Intel ISEF-affiliated regional, state and national fairs to earn the opportunity to attend the Intel ISEF. Uniting these top young scientific minds, Intel ISEF provides the opportunity to finalists to display their talent on an international stage and submit their work for judging by doctoral-level scientists. Intel ISEF provides over $4 million in prizes and scholarships annually.

Intel ISEF is the world's only international science fair representing all sciences for high-school level students. These students push the boundaries of science research. About one third of the students have patents or patents pending. Intel ISEF will be in Pittsburgh in 2018, Phoenix in 2019 and Anaheim in 2020.

2. About the Los Angeles Convention Center (LACC)
The Los Angeles Convention Center is located at 1201 South Figueroa Street in downtown Los Angeles. The building has two main halls called the South and West Halls. Intel ISEF will take up the whole building. No other shows will share the space during the week. With the exception of evening activities, almost all events will take place at the LACC.

3. Hotels
   • Courtyard Marriott LA Live 901 W Olympic Boulevard (213) 443-9222
   • Hilton Checkers 535 S. Grand Avenue (213) 624-0000

4. Parking at the LACC
Parking is available for volunteers and judges in the South and West Hall Parking lots. The West Hall Parking lot entrance is on Pico Drive and the South Hall parking entrance is on Convention Center Drive. Parking is $20.00 a day. On peak judging days, Tuesday, May 16 and Wednesday, May 17, and on peak volunteer days including Thursday, May 18, a volunteer will be stationed at the entrance to these garages to hand out complimentary passes to judges and volunteers entering each garage. These parking passes should be treated the same as cash. The Society pays for each voucher when it’s retrieved from the LACC. Parking vouchers are not refundable. No overnight parking is allowed at LACC garages.

5. Registration
Registration will take place in the South Lobby of the LACC. Volunteers will assist with registering and distributing fair materials to Official Party members, VIPs, judges and other guests throughout Fair Week.

A. Types of Registrants
   i. Student Finalists: 9th–12th grade participants with projects entered into the fair who won the opportunity to compete through their local, regional, state and/or national science competitions (orange badges).
   ii. Student Observers: Middle school or high school students who are not competing in Intel ISEF or are alternates (purple badges).
iii. Adults-In-Charge/Other Official Party: Each delegation must assign one AIC, who is typically a fair director, teacher, or parent (white badges).
iv. Fair Directors: An affiliated fair director is the person who runs the affiliated fair in a school, county, state, or nation affiliation and is the main contact for SSP (white badges).
v. Judges (Grand Award and Special Award): Grand awards (blue badges) are given in each category. Special awards (red badges) are given by the federal government, associations, societies, corporations, universities and other Special Award Organizations.
vi. Society Staff and a handful of core volunteers who need early and late access to the exhibit hall will have yellow badges and be able to access the exhibit hall through a special door.

   • METRO Rail: Take airport bus shuttle “G” under the green “Flyaway, Buses and Long Distance” sign to the Green Line METRO Aviation Station. Take the Green Line toward Norwalk and transfer to the Blue Line at the Willowbrook Station. Board the Los Angeles-bound train and exit at the 7th Street Metro station in downtown Los Angeles.
   • Within downtown LA, getting around is as easy as hopping on a DASH bus. Six quick bus routes through downtown depart every 10-15 minutes and service the district’s unique neighborhoods.
     a. Route A – Little Toyko/City West
     b. Route B – Chinatown/Financial District
     c. Route C – not in service
     d. Route D – Union Station/South Park
     e. Route E – City West/Fashion District
     f. Route F – Financial District/Exposition Park/USC

Section 4 — Volunteer Duties and Descriptions

All volunteers must check in at Room 306 A/B (Volunteer/International Office) once they arrive at the Convention Center. Volunteers are identified by blue t-shirts with “Volunteer” on the back. Contact Sharon Snyder at ssnyder@societyforscience.org with any questions.

1. Airport greeters greet guests at the airport upon arrival; help guide groups to baggage claim and advise on transportation choices.

2. Bag stuffing – over 10,000 bags will need to be organized and stuffed on Friday, May 12.

3. Display & Safety (training provided)
   Inspect every project on the exhibit hall floor to ensure they adhere to the rules of Intel ISEF on size of project and safety.

4. Interpreters
   • Assist students in over 20 languages with international registration, project set-up and SRC/D&S clearances and any other interpretation support.
   • Assist international students on Wednesday during judging (introductory breakfast for interpreters and students from 8:00 a.m.–9:00 a.m., then to Exhibit Hall.)

5. Judges
   Experts from all fields of science and engineering are selected to judge the exhibits and interact with the students. All Intel ISEF judges must have a Ph.D. or other doctoral-level degree, or six years of experience in the field being judged.

   Programming for about 4,000 local middle school children will require volunteers to help with loading and off-loading of buses, checking in groups and other tasks.

7. Registration (training provided prior to each shift all week)

8. Shipping and Receiving
   Trucks will arrive on Thursday, May 11 from GES and UPS. Volunteers will carry boxes to check in items, mark Project ID, and deliver to finalists’ project booths.
9. Student Observer Day
Student Observer Day is on Wednesday, May 17, and will be held at the USC. Special programming is offered to about 250 middle school- and high school-aged Observers who have traveled with Official Parties from all over the world. The purpose is to inspire students to continue with science research and perhaps be a finalist someday at Intel ISEF.

Section 5 — Los Angeles Information Booth

Thank you for volunteering for the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair 2017. Volunteers are critical to the success of this event. Your commitment is greatly appreciated.

Hundreds of volunteers have stepped forward, exhibiting the dedication and depth of talent in the Los Angeles community. We hope that, together, we will enable young scientists and their delegations from around the world to feel at home in Los Angeles.

Enjoy Intel ISEF.

Intel International Science and Engineering Fair 2017
The Intel International Science and Engineering Fair encourages students to tackle challenging scientific questions and develop the skills needed to solve the problems of tomorrow.

Society for Science & the Public

Society for Science & the Public (the Society) is one of the oldest nonprofit organizations in the U.S. dedicated to public engagement in science and science education. Established in 1921, the Society is a membership society and a leading advocate for the understanding and appreciation of science and the vital role it plays in human advancement.

Through its acclaimed education competitions and its award-winning Science News Media Group, the Society is committed to inform, educate and inspire. societyforscience.org

Intel Corporation

The foundation of tomorrow’s innovation is education. That’s why making quality education available to more students around the world — with the help of technology — has inspired Intel’s commitment to education for 40 years. We do more than make contributions. Intel gets directly involved in developing and helping to change policy, training teachers, offering free curricula, providing kids with a place to explore technology, and encouraging young innovators. Intel believes that students at all levels everywhere deserve to have the skills they need to become part of the next generation of innovators.

In the last decade, Intel has invested more than $1 billion, and Intel employees have donated more than four million hours, toward improving education in more than 75 countries, regions and territories. We are actively involved in education programs, advocacy, and technology access to help tomorrow’s innovators. intel.com/education
