“UTC’s decades-long commitment to ISEF and its special awards program aligns perfectly with our commitment to inspiring the next generation of scientists and engineers and putting them to work solving the world’s greatest challenges.”

DR. J. MICHAEL MCQUADE, SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT,
SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY, UNITED TECHNOLOGIES

Special Award Organization (SAO) benefits include:

- Meeting the emerging generation of innovators by participating at the world’s largest pre-college global science and engineering competition
- Joining an exclusive group of forward-thinking corporations, science associations, academic institutions and other organizations that provide more than $4 million annually in awards, scientific trips, internships and scholarships
- Having unique one-on-one interactions with the top 1,700 young scientists and researchers from over 75 countries, regions and territories as your employees and members serve as Intel International Science and Engineering Fair (Intel ISEF) judges and participate in this highly-regarded and rewarding process

Special Award Organizations are required to:

- Offer student award packages with a $5,000 minimum value
- Make a $2,500 SAO award program contribution
- Develop specific award selection criteria
- Provide Special Award judges to select your winners

A $2,500 SAO award program contribution entitles the organization to:

- Global media coverage including nearly one billion media impressions for Intel ISEF
- 50% discount for an exhibit booth in the Intel ISEF Commons to get face-to-face with the estimated 10,000 attendees including not just finalists, but the parents, teachers, mentors and science fair directors who influence college and career decisions
- 50% discount for Science News advertisement including in-depth reporting on science topics now reaching 4,000+ high schools and 100,000 digital and print subscribers
